Valerie Eliot (with TSE) 1957

TSE to Mrs. Lillian Brooks

William Collin Brooks in 1934

I. Newly Acquired Letters (1944-1959) in 2016: Three typed letters signed from Eliot to Collin Brooks, one autograph letter signed to Collin and Lillian Brooks, one typed letter from Eliot to Lillian; two typed letters signed from Valerie to Lillian, three autograph letters from Valerie to Collin, and one telegram from Valerie to Collin. Among other passages in these letters, Eliot thanks Brooks for his offer “to give me refuge” before his wedding to Valerie and tells Brooks’ wife, “there was a destiny in our relations, active from the moment [Collin] told Valerie of the vacancy at Faber, and urged her to apply for it.” Valerie’s letters recount her early enthusiasm for Eliot.

II. Papers of Henry Ware Eliot, Senior, and other family materials, including Henry Ware Eliot’s “A Brief Autobiography” and an address on “Philosophy and The Science of Truth.”

III. Books by Charlotte Eliot

William Greenleaf Eliot: Minister, Educator, Philanthropist. Boston: Houghton, Mifflin, 1904.
Dedication: "Written for my children 'Lest They Forget.'"

Savonarola. London: R. Cobden-Sanderson, 1926.

IV. Papers of Herbert Howarth, Letters from Eliot. A collection of materials relating to Howarth’s Notes on Some Figures Behind T. S. Eliot (1964), including the correspondence in which Eliot tells Howarth that he repudiates the book because it makes “assertions as of fact which are only conjecture and which are often wildly inaccurate” and also Eliot’s strongly worded corrections on the first draft of the manuscript.
