

The T. S. Eliot Society

The T. S. Eliot Society is an international organization of scholars and others interested in the life and work of Eliot. It was founded in 1980 to provide fellowship and enrichment of understanding, and as a focus for commemorating Eliot in the city of his birth, St. Louis.

The Society publishes its newsletter, Time Present, three times yearly, and it sponsors annual sessions at MLA, SAMLA, ALA, and the Louisville Conference on Literature & Culture since 1900.

Incorporated as a non-profit organization, the Society is supported by the annual dues of its members. For information concerning membership, please visit the Society's website at www.luc.edu/eliot.

To subscribe to the Society's listserv, please contact Cyrena Pondrom (cpondrom@english.wisc.edu).

2013 MEMORIAL LECTURER JAHAN RAMAZANI

Jahan Ramazani is Edgar F. Shannon Professor of English at the University of Virginia. His 2013 Eliot Society lecture draws from his new book, Poetry and Its Others: News, Prayer, Song, and the Dialogue of Genres, forthcoming from the University of Chicago Press. Ramazani is the author of A Transnational Poetics (2009), winner of the 2011 Harry Levin Prize of the American Comparative Literature Association, awarded for the best book in comparative literary history published in the years 2008 to 2010. Previous books include The Hybrid Muse: Postcolonial Poetry in English (2001); Poetry of Mourning: The Modern Elegy from Hardy to Heaney (1994), a finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award; and Yeats and the Poetry of Death: Elegy, Self-Elegy, and the Sublime (1990). He edited the most recent edition of the Norton Anthology of Modern and Contemporary Poetry (2003) and, with Jon Stallworthy, The Twentieth Century and After in the Norton Anthology of English Literature (2006, 2012). He is also an associate editor of the new Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics (2012). He has received a Guggenheim Fellowship, an NEH Fellowship, a Rhodes Scholarship, the William Riley Parker Prize of the MLA, and the Thomas Jefferson Award, the University of Virginia's highest honor.
